

LIVINGSTON

Howard Bower has been papering his house for the last week and yet he says he is a swift paper hanger.—T. M. Dees is converting the second story of his store house into a hall. The Junior Order has rented it.—A man by the name of Perry, of Winchester, has purchased a house from Thomas Jones. Price paid $250.—Hugh Jenkins is on a visit to Tunnel Hill, Ky. Gone to see his best girl we guess.—G. W. Martin attended the funeral of his sister Mrs. W. D. Land at Rowland.—Miss Cora Griffin, of Mt. Vernon, Miss Rosa Pike, of Brodhead, and Miss Elizabeth Reynolds are the attractive guests of Mrs. C. P. Reynolds.—Mrs. W. P. Buchanan, of Staudford, has been visiting her sister Mrs. G. W. Martin the past week.—Geo. M. Rawlings, the barber, has just returned from a visit to his parents at Burning Springs, Clay County.—Miss Anna G. Hall, of Rowland, is the guest of her sister Mrs. G. W. Martin.—W. M. Preston, formerly of this place but who has been in the west for some time, has returned and will move his family back.—The barber, who has been ill, is cured.

—Robert Gregory has just gone to Lebanon Jct. to accept a position there as operator.—The man who raised so much sand about what he said about the grip confessed in court at Richmond and was given six months on the rock pile. So we were right after all. Be sure you are right, then go ahead is our motto, and by the way we are almost always in the right. After we are censured for being so plain, we have found that you can't please all, so run shy of the law and that is sufficient.

J. W. Baker has purchased the store house and lot belonging to C. M. Griffin and will place a stock of goods therein.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Pennington have just returned from Annville, Jackson County, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Pennington's mother who died in London, Ky., on May 25, 1910 in her 94th year.

Republican Favorite for Congress in the Eighth.

HUGH MILLER

Who, by his wit, wisdom and eloquence captured the Republican Convention which met at Danville last week, before he had concluded his speech was being mentioned as a formidable candidate to oppose the Hon. Harvey Helm. The Danville Advocate has this to say about the meeting:

"The Republican Congressional Committee of the Eighth District met in Danville Saturday afternoon for the purpose of fixing the time and place and deciding upon the manner in which a nominee is to be chosen to make the race against the Hon. Harvey Helm.

Shelby and Spencer counties failed to send delegates. All the other counties were represented in person or by proxy.

The chairman of the respective County Committees, compose the District Committee. Jessamine was represented by Brown Buford, of Nicholasville; Boyle by J. H. Swept, of Danville; Anderson by Lloyd Simpson; Mercer by S. T. Randsall, of Harrodsburg; Rockcastle by Hugh Miller, of Mt. Vernon; Garrard by W. T. West, of Lancaster; Lincoln by Dr. R. L. Davidson, of Standford; Madison was represented by proxy in the hands of Judge L. W. Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, who is chairman of the District Committee.

The meeting was called to order in the parlors of the Gilcher House at 2 o'clock by Judge Bethurum. The session lasted three hours and many speeches were made and a general discussion indulged in.

Hon. Hugh Miller, Circuit Clerk of Rockcastle county, made the leading address of the afternoon. His subject was "Citizenship and Republicanism." He handled his theme in a masterly manner and was roundly applauded by his listeners. Numerous other addresses were made.

After considerable discussion, August 9th was decided upon as the time to nominate a candidate to make the race against Congressman Helm, who has been nominated by the Democrats. The nomination will be made by convention, which will be held in Danville.

Judge L. W. Bethurum, who has been prominently mentioned as a possible candidate stated to the Advocate that he positively would not run. Judge Bethurum is a brother of Judge B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, and like him has been very successful in politics. He has served two terms as County Attorney and two terms as County Judge of Rockcastle county, and is still a very young man.

The leaders started a boom for the Hon. George W. Welsh, of this city, as one of the most available men to make the race. They were very strong in their contention that he is the right man for the Republicans to nominate. At the conclusion of his speech, Hon. Hugh Miller, of Mt. Vernon, came into immediate favor and was at once prominently mentioned as a very fit man for nomination. In a talk to the Advocate he declined to say whether or not he would be a candidate.

Jessamine county is boasting Hon. Brown Buford, the Chairman from that county, while Lincoln county wants Hon. George D. Florence nominated. Quite a number of lay Republicans attended the meeting and talked matters over with the leaders. Auditor Frank P. James, of Harrodsburg, was mentioned also as a possible candidate.

A special to the Cincinnati Times Star says:

The Eighth Republican Congressional District committee held an enthusiastic meeting here. The Eighth is a district, carefully and studiously gerrymandered, in the interests of the Democratic party, but the Republicans intend to make the fight of their lives for its redemption. Their hopes are based largely, very properly, too, on the splendid effort put forth by Judge L. W. Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, who, two years ago, against heaviest odds, shook this citadel of Democracy. Judge Bethurum then actually outran the President in the counties of the Eighth district. Young, able, vigorous and eloquent Judge Bethurum is a Kentucky Republican who inspires the party in this State with highest ideals and loftiest purpose. No doubt that he, will yet sit in Kentucky's gubernatorial chair, or go to Washington as United States Senator. That he may in due course, win both honors is not a remote possibility.

A delegate convention was called for August 9 next, to meet at Danville. A notable utterance at this meeting was the speech of Hon. Hugh Miller of Rockcastle. Mr. Miller's theme was "Citizenship and True Republicanism." His sterling declarations aroused the meeting to enthusiasm. They were clear, stirring and inspiring. His ability as a speaker was amply demonstrated. The State and National administrations were heartily indorsed. Senator Bradley's course and methods at Washington met with the very warmest approval. No more earnest or hopeful assembly of Republicans has ever been held in Kentucky.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition; hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Do You Feel This Way?

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding of the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice. Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are of known composition. Their every ingredient printed on their wrappers. Made from roots without alcohol. Contain no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

TRADE AT HOME.

It is a good rule of conduct not to do what everybody else cannot do without injury to all. Suppose everybody in Mt. Vernon made purchases in other cities. This town would sink out of sight. Its merchants would be bankrupt, its industries would be crippled and its population would leave. It is well to think of this when tempted to order things from other cities which may be had here. Patronize Home Industries is a good policy for any town, city or county. It is a good policy for everybody, for what one does all have an equal right to do. Money spent at home is put into circulation at home. It returns again and again to trade. It pays wages of clerks and working men of this town. They pay grocers' bills and buy dry goods, clothing and shoes. Moreover when you buy at home you know what you are getting. Mt. Vernon prices are reasonable. Many a man and as many women have found that the apparent gain on purchases made in other cities is more than absorbed by the shipping charges and when the goods are delivered they were not what was wanted. There is too often a gap between specifications and actuality. Patronize Home Industries.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Lord Tennyson could take a penny piece of paper, write a poem on it, and make it worth sixty-five thousand dollars. That's genius. Uncle Sam can take an ounce and a quarter of gold and stamp upon it an eagle and make it worth twenty dollars. That's skill. A merchant can take an article worth seventy-five cents and sell it for a dollar. That's business. A lady can purchase a hat for a dollar and fifty cents, but she prefers one for thirty dollars. That's extravagance.

A coke-drawer can pull several tons of coke in a day and get several dollars. That's labor.

A preacher can preach for a whole year on ten dollars per month—and live. That—oh, that means he has a saving wife.

You can write a check for ten millions of dollars that would not be worth a dime. That's moral foolishness.

You can take that vile heart of yours and have it made into the dwelling place of the most high God. That's the grace of God.—Selected.

JUST KEEP ON KEEPIN' ON.

If the day looks kinder gloomy
An' your chance is kinder slim—
If the situation's puzzlin'
An' the prospect's awful grim,
An' perplexities keep pressin'
Till all hope is nearly gone,
Jus' bristle up, an' grit your teeth,
An' keep on keepin' on.
Fummin' never wins a fight,
An' frettin' never pays;
There ain't no good in broodin' in
These pessimistic ways.
Smile just kinder cheerfully
When hope is nearly gone,
An' bristle up, an' grit your teeth,
An' keep on keepin' on.
There ain't no use in growlin'
An' grumblin' all the time,
When the music's ringin' everywhere
An' everything's a rhyme.
Just keep a-smilin' cheerfully,
If hope is nearly gone,
An' bristle up, an' grit your teeth,
An' keep on keepin' on.

OBITUARY

In loving remembrance of John M. Moore who fell asleep May 25, 1910, after an illness of only a few months of a complication of diseases in Berea hospital. For months he had suffered in agony and after consulting those able Drs. Cornelius, of Berea, and Gibbons, of Richmond, concluded to be operated upon as a last remedy. He went to the hospital full of hope, believing all would be well with him, but he was too weak to bear the suffering through which he had to pass, and fell asleep in the arms of Jesus without a murmur. He was 25 years of age. On February 6, 1905 he was married to Miss Sadie Martin. To this happy union was born one little girl, Elizabeth Louise. Besides his devoted wife and child he leaves a father, mother and one brother to mourn the loss of a kind obedient son, and an affectionate brother, all bowed down in grief and sorrow. Sadie, sweet sister, we beg you to look to your Savior our blessed Jesus for help and strength to bear this great sorrow he has seen fit to place upon you, and remember that John has not left you forever, but only asleep, safe in that home prepared for him, and all who lived as John lived will ever long join him and never more will the bond of love be severed, but rest in peace and love around the throne of God, and little Louise, teach her never to forget her papa, who loved his baby so dearly. Dear father and mother we pray God's blessings rest on you both and may you both live so as to meet dear John your first born. There is only one we can look forward too in our sorrow and that is God the father.

Edgar, words cannot express our sympathy for you, for the loss of your only brother, your little companion to school and in all the paths of childhood. Oh! how the memories come to you now, how you took your little dinner basket and went to school together, how you played together around the fireplace at night around mother and father's knee how in after years you both made God your choice and were made members of the old Glade Church John was a dear worker in the vineyard of his God, always ready to lend a helping hand to those in distress. So grieve not for your dear brother, but prepare to meet him in that land where all are free from their suffering and trials.

The deceased was laid to rest in Berea Cemetery Wednesday evening at 2:30, amid sorrowing friends and relatives. The flowers were many and beautiful.

A precious link is broken
In our household band
But a chain is forming
In a better land.
Not lost, blest thought,
But gone before,
Where we shall meet
To part no more.

He took the cup of life to sip,
So bitter 'twas to drain,
He meekly put it from his lips
And went to sleep again
Remember friends as you pass by,
That all mankind are born to die;
Then let your cares in Christ be cast,
That you may dwell with Him
at last. M. M.

ONIONS BARRED FROM MENUE OF BARBERS.

Waterloo, Neb.—On ordinance has been passed by the City Council and signed by the Mayor, and is effective at once, which, among other things, regulates matters relative to the cleanliness of barber-shops and then provides:

"It shall be unlawful for any barber in this town to eat onions between 7 o'clock a.m. and 9 p.m. No barber while shaving a customer, shall insert his thumb or finger in said customer's mouth, shall not discuss the gossip of the town, and shall not use tobacco while working over a chair, shall not assist upon a customer having his neck shaved or his hair singed."

A violation of any of the provisions shall subject the barber to arrest and a fine of not less than $5 for each and every offense.

A WOMAN'S GREAT IDEA is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruption and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood, give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c at Chas. C. Davis'

The wheat market was demoralized again yesterday, showing shortly before the market closed, losses of 2 3/4 cents on September and from 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 cents on May. The close showed an average rally of about 1 1/4 cents, due largely to the fact that the market was sold to a standstill.

A new world's record for big gun shooting, which incidentally emphasizes the superiority of United States naval marksmanship, has just been made by the new battleship South Carolina. With her forward turret twelve inch guns she made sixteen "bull's eye" target hits out of sixteen shots in four minutes and fifty one seconds.

President Taft sent to Chairman Tawney, of the House of Committee on Appropriations a letter expressing deep resentment at the criticism passed by Democrats in House debate upon the traveling expenses of the President. The President says he is especially distressed by "suggested reflection on Southern hospitality."

While returning from a party at Columbus, O., an automobile driven by William Snyder ran over an embankment and Miss Lillian Wright and Miss Flossie Herman were instantly killed. Miss Douglass suffered a fractured rib; Mr. Snyder's leg was broken. Miss Wright was to have been married to Fred Ambrose.

Mrs. John Catron, who used to be Miss Mary Colver, was buried last Monday. She leaves a babe only a few days old. Tuberculosis and other complications brought about her death.

We would suggest that it might be a good idea for the Marshall to always be present at public gatherings, and maybe some of the younger boys who always make a rush for the back of the room, scrape their feet over the floor, keep a screaming bench in motion or something to annoy others, just to be funny as they regard it, could be induced to either stay at home or keep quiet.

THE MEMBERS and all who subscribed to the building of the new Buckeye Church are all requested to meet at Church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock a. m. June 11th, 1910 for the purpose of making settlement with the Treasurer and Building Committee and cleaning off church house yard and disposing of the remnants of lumber etc.

Lincoln Stringer, a popular black smith of Brodhead and Miss Jamie Johnson, also of Rockcastle, came here last Saturday and secured a license from County Clerk Cooper and were immediately made man and wife by Judge Bailey in his most approved style. Mr. Stringer was very anxious to keep the news of their wedding out of the papers until he and his bride could return to Brodhead, secure their trunks and leave for a trip to Louisville, fearing a chivari by the boys who had been watching for his elopement.—Interior Journal

Mr. W. A. B. Davis received a message Monday from Tucson, Arizona, that his daughter, Mrs. Garla Henderson, died that morning, and that they would leave at once for Mt. Vernon with the remains for burial. Her husband, C. B. Henderson and two small children are accompanying the remains and they are expected to arrive to-day or to-morrow. No particulars were given. Mr. Davis received a letter a few days ago stating that Mrs. Henderson had fallen in some way had injured herself and would probably have to undergo an operation and he thinks that probably she died while undergoing this ordeal yet he does not know it to be a fact.

BROWN MEMORIAL CLOSING:—

This week has been the closing exercises of the Brown Memorial School and has been a week full of interest, enjoyment and pleasure for the people of Mt. Vernon and vicinity.

Sunday afternoon was the Bible exercises, or rather exhibition of what the children have accomplished in the study of the Bible. The entire school took part in these exercises and the large audience, composed of patrons and friends, was thoroughly delighted with the splendid showing and were very complimentary in behalf of both instructors and pupils.

Monday evening came the Primary entertainment and the college chapel was taxed to its full capacity, for all wanted to see the little folks and not a single person went away disappointed in the least. It was real interest from start to finish. The Intermediate department held forth Tuesday evening and presented a most creditable and enjoyable program. This was Long fellow evening: "The day is done" sung by the Girls Glee Club came first.

The comedy in one act, "Tow Meeting of Killingworth" was presented by Rob McKenzie, Lloyd Chesnut, John Lair, Alma Forbe, Jesse Fish, Miss Emma Hamon, Bryau Perkins and Miss Bertha Litton, with others in attendance, and those who enjoy a good hearty laugh were given an opportunity to "laugh" to their hearts content.

The Courtship of Miles Standish was next presented by John Fish, Miss Frances Forbes, John D. Henderson, Jesse Fish, Jones Fish, Jamie Thompson and John Lair. John Fish, as Miles Standish and Miss Frances Forbes, as (Priscilla), were the stars and were highly complimented and applauded for the excellent manner in which they played their parts.

Miss Bernice Landrum recited in Pantomime, "The Famine" and Miss Anna Walton gave "The Result of the meeting", both did well and their recitations were well received by the appreciative hearers.

"Excelsior" sung by Miss Mae Miller added greatly to the program, as the solos sang by Miss Miller are always thoroughly enjoyed.

Evangeline, the last number on the program, was presented in story, picture and song.

Wednesday evening was the declamatory contest in which five young ladies took part. "Lady Wentworth" Miss Blanche Crawford; "Commencement," Miss Virginia Martin; "The Trumpet and Drum," "Picnic Time," "Secin' Things," Miss Ruth Mullins; "Flying Jim" Miss Sadie Richards; "The Fiddle Told," Miss Clyde Watson, and most creditable efforts each made. To say which was best, was hard to do. Each did well and displayed much ability as elocutionists. Jones Fish recited "The Constitution" and John Fish "The Conqueror" but they were not in as contestants and were not so considered by the Judges, notwithstanding each did well enough to entitle him to a handsome prize. Atty. C. C. Williams, Miss Georgia McFerron and Mr. J. H. Cooper, of Knoxville, acted as judges, awarding the first prize, a handsome silver medal; the gift of Mr. W. J. Sparks, to Miss Virginia Martin and the second prize, a copy of Whitier's complete work, the gift of E. S. Albright, to Miss Sadie Richards. Mr. Williams in presenting the prizes, said that the Judges found it a most difficult task to decide between the young ladies, each one having done so well, and with him the entire audience heartily concurred.

The Piano duet by Misses Anna Mae Miller and Blanche Crawford and the songs by the Glee Club and mixed chorus were the musical features of the evening.

Yesterday afternoon completed the program of the closing exercises, with the piano recital of Miss Keys' music pupils. Those who took part were, Misses Anna Walton, Sadie Richards Ruth Mullins, Jennie Morrow Miller, Bernice Landrum, Annie May Miller, Pattie Perkins, Bess and Martha Sparks, Christine Davis, Lula McCoy, Christine McFerron and Master Fred Baker. The splendid showing made by each of the participants was very commendable both to the pupils and their most efficient teacher, Miss Keys.

Last evening was the lecture by Prof. Acheson, Pres. of Caldwell College, Danville, and it goes without the saying that it was fine. Prof. Acheson, besides being one

50 Per Cent Better

"I have used less than one bottle of Cardui," writes Mrs. Gertrude Ward, of Rushville, Neb., "and am feeling fifty per cent better than when I began taking it."

"Before taking Cardui, I had suffered with female trouble, for eight years. My greatest trouble was irregularity. I also suffered with severe pains, every month, but now I am greatly improved and will recommend Cardui to all my suffering friends."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

The rare medicinal herbs of Cardui are imported by the manufacturers direct from Europe and are not to be found in any other medicine.

These ingredients are what give Cardui its superiority, as a female medicine and tonic, over any other medicine.

For over 50 years Cardui has been the favorite woman's medicine. The ladies like it, because it is so easy to take, so gentle, so safe, so reliable in its results, and they have faith in its curative tonic powers, because of the thousands of other ladies it has helped. Try it today.

GETTING READY

"When I decided to go south for a few weeks," said pretty Miss Carew, "I thought I was going so very inexpensively that I deserved a medal for my cleverness."

"You haven't given it up, I hope?" asked her friend. "Your cousin has planned such a gay time for you that it would be too bad not to go."

"Oh, no; I'm going," said Miss Carew. "I couldn't back out now that my cousin has laid so many plans. She has a dance arranged for the very evening of the day I arrive, so I hope my trunk won't be late. For you see, I've come to the conclusion that the surest way to go away is to come I accepted her invitation at once, because I had so very little to buy in order to go."

"You always have nice things," said her friend. "You wouldn't need a single new garment."

"That's what I thought," said Miss Carew. "I decided that a little piece of new would fix me up and that's where I made my mistake. If I had started by getting a complete new outfit it would have been cheaper."

"The first things I looked at were my hats," explained Miss Carew. "Of course I couldn't travel in my plumed hat and my white one was out of the question. I took my old one to the milliner and had it retouched, but when it came home I wasn't satisfied and I went back for a new one. Though I told the milliner it was for traveling, she showed me all sorts of deformed and distorted things with miles of ribbon and feathers on them and calmly announced that the lowest price was $28. She said she wouldn't be giving the hats away for that delicious sum if it wasn't late in the season. Of course, I had to have a new one."

"I expect a stranger to be particularly well dressed," agreed Miss Carew's friend, politely. "Isn't it funny? If we saw the same girl at home every day we wouldn't care half so much what she wore."

"Well, I had to pay a terrible price for that hat," sighed Miss Carew. "Really, though, it is beautiful."

"Things have gone up so," said her friend. "You can't get hats for the old-time prices."

"Then I thought my old suit would do if I had it pressed and got a new waist to light it up," went on Miss Carew. "I ran all about looking for something about the same shade as my suit and finally found one for $15 that would do. I discovered that my supply of handkerchiefs was getting low and money that I begrudged went into new ones. My old belt was good enough for home, but not for visiting, so there was another expense."

"Beats make the finishing touch," said the friend. "I've seen lots of suits spoiled by poor ones."

"My crepe de chine had to be cleaned and the sleeves had to be made over," related Miss Carew. "Then when it came back from the dressmaker's I thought it looked horrid and I got a blue meter silk. Two suits had to be pressed. I had to get three pairs of gloves. Then my slipper cost me a lot more than I expected."

"You can use everything when you come home," said her friend, consolingly. "You'll be glad to have them when you get back."

"That's just it!" sighed Miss Carew. "Did you ever have anything to fall back on when you came home from a visit? There won't be a thing left of my old clothes and the things I have bought new will be sights to see."

"Personally I am always rejoiced when my things go to pieces," said her friend. "For then I am absolutely forced to invest in new ones. It's when they're only half worn that I am in despair. Then my conscience forces me to make them do for any and all occasions. There's one consolation in going away—you can wear a lot of things everybody at home has seen, and the strangers will consider them new."

"Maybe that will be a comfort," said Miss Carew, more cheerfully. "You see, the railroad rates are so nice and low and I want to go so much. My cousin has planned the loveliest time! But when it came to getting three entirely new dresses—"

"You didn't!" exclaimed her friend. "Why, yes," said Miss Carew. "Even when fixed over, all my things looked so shabby, somehow. My cousin is going to so much trouble to give me a gay time, arranging to have something every evening I'm there. I had to have two dance gowns and I absolutely needed something for house wear. I think I did pretty well not to get a new suit."

"Yes, but if you had stayed home you wouldn't—"

"Oh!" her friend interrupted herself. "Isn't that where that handsome young Mr. Randolph lives who was here last summer at your aunt's?"

"I believe there are a number of men of that name there," acknowledged Miss Carew, with rising color. "But that has absolutely nothing to do with it. I am going for a rest, you know."

MAKING A LAWN

Bramshank, after investigating the matter carefully, last spring decided that the best way to deal with the half-acre of ground surrounding his new suburban home was to seed it heavily and just let the grass grow at its own sweet will.

"If you don't cut the new grass all summer," Bramshank explained to his wife, "it gets a chance to thicken up and the next year you have a splendid lawn. I think we can stand the long grass for one season!"

"Oh, certainly," agreed Mrs. Bramshank, who has an inventive mind. "And when it gets tall enough, say about August, we can hang Japanese lanterns through it and give a garden party! It will be nice, too, to serve afternoon tea under the shade of the bluegrass!"

"That's all right," said Bramshank indignantly, "but I'm going to do it all the same!"

Nobody could say that Bramshank was stingy with the seed. He got a huge quantity from a dealer who was going out of business and anxious to dispose of his stock at cut rates, and he painstakingly sprinkled all of it over his yard on the theory that if a little was good a great deal was better.

When the first tender shoots of green began to color the ground Bramshank positively chortled with joy and pride. He took practically all the credit to himself for the rapidity and thickness of the growth, though he did grudgingly allow a trifle of it to the seed man. "He said it was a special variety of seed," Bramshank told his wife, "and I believe he was right. Just look at it!"

After a few weeks that was all the Bramshank family did—look at the lawn. Indeed, the whole suburb contracted the habit of sauntering over to look at the Bramshank place, for nobody had ever seen anything like the grass that was growing there. It was Hackinny who first broke the news.

"Say," he halted Bramshank from the sidewalk, "when did you decide to take up truck gardening? Aren't you afraid so much grass mixed in will interfere with the vegetables?"

Bramshank after one pallid glance over his weird-looking estate reeled up against a porch pillar with a blinding light breaking over him. The reason his lawn looked so queer was that half the seed was the seed of assorted garden vegetables.

There was carelessness about the groupings which might have appealed to an artistic nature, but which only further agonized the Bramshanks. There would be a little bunch of tomatoes, plants, say, in the middle of the lawn and flanking them a thin scattered array of feathery carrot tops. Green onions, lettuce, cucumbers, muskmelons and cabbages hilariously intermingled in the wildest confusion. As he searched further Bramshank found Indian corn studiously pushing its way up in various spots. Also there were turnips and parsley and many more things. In fact, as Mrs. Bramshank said, a banana grove was all that was lacking to make their half-acre a complete botanical collection for the entire western hemisphere!

Now, vegetables are all very well in their place, but nobody would choose to have them scattered all over a lawn. To be sure, Bramshank could have mowed them down, but he was too tired to move also much grass as there was—and anyhow Mrs. Bramshank had a frugal mind. She believed in accepting the goods the fates provided, so she refused to allow the garden-lawn to be destroyed.

Bramshank said the real reason for her refusal was that she had fallen in love with two tomato plants on the lee side of the library window and that she could not resist the appeal of the tender young carrots pathetically flourishing next the blue bushes. There was something touching about the manner in which the cucumber vines trustingly spread out and strangled the struggling grass about them.

The worst of it was that all summer Bramshank toiled in the garden he hadn't expected to have at all. It seemed rank foolishness not to take care of the enthusiastic tomatoes and other garden truck. The whole neighborhood took to running over to get parsley from the Bramshank front lawn because the idea was so unique—and not every one can pick lettuce from along the front of his town property.

The Bramshanks raised several bushels of tomatoes, three dozen ears of green corn, cucumbers enough to start a pickle factory and untold quantities of small truck. Bramshank had to get up an hour earlier each morning all summer long properly to care for his vegetables, besides hearing the jeers of his neighbors. And by fall there wasn't any grass at all.

This spring Bramshank is going to sod over his lawn. It will cost more, but he says it's safer.

J. L. SABEL & SONS
Established in 1896. Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky.—The body of Alma Kellner was found in a sub-cellar at St. John's Catholic school at 10 o'clock Monday morning by a plumber who had been sent into the cellar to look after the water system, which was out of condition.

The man was horrified at the sight that met his eyes and ran to the street and gave the alarm.

The cellar was little used and possibly no one had been in it for several months, with the exception of the little girl's slayers.

It is evident that she had been murdered. Six ribs and her back were broken. She was wrapped in an old carpet and quick lime had been thrown over her body, partially destroying it. One leg with foot attached was buried three feet deep in the cellar.

Positive identification was made by Frank Fehr, uncle of the dead girl.

It is the theory that she was attacked and killed where she was found. Her body had been in the cellar for many months.

Alma Kellner, young daughter of Frederick Kellner, was believed to have been kidnapped from the home of her parents on Dec. 8, 1909. Police officers and detectives throughout the country have searched for her. Her parents are wealthy and related to Frank Fehr, the millionaire brewer, and fabulous rewards were offered for her recovery. Her parents, almost distracted, have waited in vain, hoping that she would be found, and when the news of the murder and finding of the decomposed body was told them, the parents broke completely down.

The entire city is wrought up over the heinous crime, done by a heartless wretch.

Thousands of people hurried to the scene at St. John's School when the report of the discovery of the body was made. Excitement is still high and morbid thousands lurk around the scene of the brutal murder.
